

Cardice Cooper-Lovett PhD, LMFT-S

Licensed Marriage and Family
Therapist, and Sex Therapist,
Tantric/Spiritual Healer

Mental Health and Empowerment
Speaker/Consultant/Domestic Violence & Sexual Abuse/Assault
Advocate/Social Justice Advocate

Bio

Dr. Cooper-Lovett is a wife, mom, and licensed marriage and family therapist, sex therapist and owner of A New Creation Psychotherapy Services, LLC a group practice in the south Atlanta Metro Area. Dr. Cooper-Lovett has been on radio shows, podcasts, television, and panels and has done workshops and keynote speeches. Dr. Cooper-Lovett has a focus of post-traumatic growth and social justice. Dr. Cooper-Lovett has presented at many national conferences since her undergraduate career surrounding topics around violence, clinical implications in working with African American youth witnesses to IPV (intimate partner violence), and mental health awareness in African American communities. Dr. Cooper-Lovett has done workshops that focus on healthy relationships, as well as workshops on empowerment and growth. She was also the keynote speaker for the Women of Virtue Transitional Foundation's Purple Orchids, Survivor and Thrivers Brunch and Fundraiser event in 2017, and 2018. She has done workshops at local community centers, churches and various events throughout the Atlanta, GA area that focused on marriage, sexuality, and relationships.

Speaking Topics

- Dating Violence and Healthy Relationships
- Infidelity Recovery
- Empowerment and Transformative Growth
- Social Justice, Equality, and Multiculturalism
- Destigmatizing Mental Health in the Black Community .
- Intimacy and Sexuality in Relationships and Marriage
- Women's Sexuality and Pleasure
- Becoming an Entrepreneur as a PhD

Booking Info

www.drcooplove.com

<https://www.facebook.com/DrCoopLove/>

@drcooplove